Dear Rotarians:

The devastating situation a lot of children in many parts of world are in is so alarming that we just cannot sit and do nothing. Please join me in giving these children light in their lives. You can help in the following two projects the World Children's Organization are currently working on. 100% of your donations will be used directly in helping the children.

Special Project One – Printing and distributing My First Books® to underprivileged children around the world

The WCO plans to raise funds to print 1,000 copies of My First Books series. With 130 books in each series, the total number of books is 130,000; at a circulation of 8 people for each book, we estimate to help educate over one million underprivileged children in the remote and poverty-stricken communities around the world by providing the books to them free of charge.

The cost of printing 130 books – in 13 boxes – is US$100. The total cost of printing 1,000 copies of My First Books series is US$100,000. This is strictly the printing cost. It does not include the production, shipping, distributing, or any other costs.

The 130 books have been completed and readied for printing. With your donations, we will be able to print and put them into the hands of teachers and students in need. If you donate in bulk, we can even print your organization's name on the boxes.

Special Project Two – Trip to visit underprivileged children, publish a book, and produce a documentary

Andrew Hsu, the co-founder of the World Children's Organization, is organizing a 14 day trip to visit children in Vietnam, Cambodia, Nepal, and the Philippines in December 2005 or March 2006. The objectives of the visit are: (1) to witness firsthand the levels of deprivation of the children and to get involved directly; (2) to distribute and teach My First Books to children and to encourage them to learn; (3) to raise public awareness of the horrible conditions the children in disadvantaged communities are forced to live in; (4) to publish a book and a documentary chronicling the atrocities these children faced.

In addition to Andrew Hsu and Patrick Hsu, the trip will include writers, a photographer, a video photographer, escorts, and guides. Andrew Hsu plans to raise $50,000 for the project. A detailed proposal is available upon request.

Thank you very much for your help.

Sincerely,

Andrew Hsu
